10th ANNIVERSARY

UNION OF NATIONAL BUSINESS RATINGS

About Us

We are the only project in Georgia in which awards are granted to companies based on official rankings.

We are also the only international business awards ceremony held in Georgia.

The awards are recognized not only within Georgia but also in every country where analogous events organized by the International Union of Business Ratings take place.

Business integrated with the fields of art and culture.

The International Union of Business Ratings was founded in 2003 by its President, Valerii Gizhytskyi and unites eight Eastern Partnership countries, including Georgia since 2015. In 2017, the Union partnered with the Swiss Rating Association, after which business companies began receiving the joint international award "Leader of the Year." This title is officially registered as an international trademark with the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

This high level of trust is ensured by the fact that the identification and presentation of successful business companies for this prestigious international award is based entirely on objective national rankings that cover all fields of economic activity across Georgia, in accordance with the National Classifier.

The ratings are compiled using publicly available data from GeoStat, following the methodology of the International Union of Business Ratings. This approach eliminates the human factor and guarantees full objectivity. The Golden Top Ten highlights the leading companies nationwide in every sector — not among a hundred, nor even among a thousand, but from the entire country — based on annual turnover, number of employees, personnel expenditures, and other key indicators.

A partnership with the research organization Bests of Georgia has led to the establishment of a new award — The Best 2025.

This award is granted to companies through a dual-evaluation process, where first-place winners of the Golden Rating undergo an additional assessment based on direct surveys.

From the very first ceremony 2015

The Order of Bests of Georgia is awarded to distinguished representatives of the younger generation in the fields of art and culture. Nominees are selected by a jury chaired by Nikoloz Tsulukidze.

Upcoming Publication

In the summer of 2026, an English-language catalog, Bests of Georgia Junior, will also be published.

It will present the perspectives of outstanding, talented, and emerging young leaders across various fields.

We proudly look back on our ten-year journey.

The image, trust, and reputation that our organization has earned over the decade are the result of the tireless work of every team member — their high standards, objectivity, academic approach, refined taste, sincere relationships, and unwavering fairness. A significant part of this success is due to having by our side an individual like Nikoloz Tsulukidze — we extend our gratitude to him.

We thank our partners, who have stood with us throughout these years.

We thank every company and individual who has participated in our projects.

As many of our award recipients note, there is no greater joy than being given the opportunity to take pride in your achievements — when others see and recognize the results of your work — and, most importantly, when the award you receive, confirming your success, is based on an objective foundation.

Many more victories and even larger-scale, higher-ranking events lie ahead. We wish you continued success!

DAVIT MAZANASHVILI

Biography

Place of birth: Tbilisi, Georgia.

He graduated from a music school where he studied classical and jazz piano as well as composition.

He began playing the piano at the age of 4; at the age of 10, he took part in a young composers' competition and was awarded the title of laureate. In 1999, he worked and lived in New York City. After returning from the USA, he met musicians Gia Salaghishvili and Nodar Ekvtimishvili and together they formed the Georgian Jazz Trio. The trio participated in many international jazz festivals, where Davit Mazanashvili received the First Laureate award.

Davit Mazanashvili is also a member of the Georgian Professional League. He has performed and shared the stage with such musicians as Roy Ayers, Janis Harrington, Tania Maria, Billy Cobham, Derek James, Gary Swartz, and others.

Profession: Pianist

has been one of the most recognizable and refined vocalists in the Georgian music scene since the 1990s. She began singing in childhood as a member of the legendary ensemble Mziuri, and already during her school years took part in various competitions, where she stood out for her clearly defined individuality, the lyrical timbre characteristic of the Georgian singing tradition, musical precision, and distinctive performance style.

NATO METONIDZE

She gained wider public recognition after participating in television projects and concert programs. Her performing manner — a blend of pop and jazz, soft phrasing, and clean intonation — quickly became her artistic signature. Her voice integrated naturally into the works of the great Georgian composer Giya Kancheli, becoming an organic part of his musical aesthetic.

A significant part of her career is connected to live performances and collaborations with orchestras, which further shaped and enriched her musical style. Over the years, she has been both a nominee and a recipient of various music awards, while critics consistently highlight her precision, intuitive musicianship, and professional artistic culture.

Nato Metonidze is a genuinely distinctive artist — a singer of exceptional taste and refined vocal mastery. She continues her active musical career, participates in diverse projects, and creates new works. Today, she stands as one of the most important and outstanding names in the contemporary Georgian popular music scene. And what is most difficult to earn in the musical world — the sincere love of the audience — she has already achieved.

GROUP "ALLEGRO"

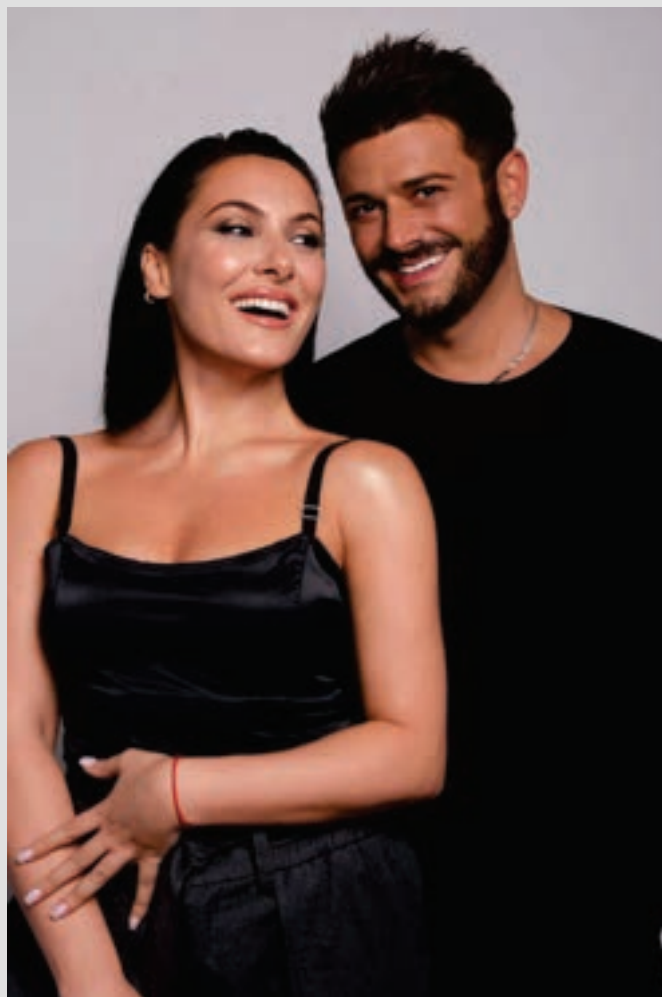

was founded in 2015

Group "Allegro" was founded in 2015. It stands as a shining example of the popularization of Italian culture, performing in the "Crossover" genre — a unique synthesis of pop music and academic vocals. The group's creative journey and first significant recognition are linked to an event held at the Funicular complex - the "Swiss Association of Leaders" awards ceremony. It was here that their path to success began. After several months of preparation, "Allegro" made its debut before a wide audience on the TV channel "Rustavi 2," appearing on "Nanuka's Show" with the song "Genatsvale." Continuing their successful momentum, four months after their founding, the group premiered on TV Imedi's morning show with a song beloved by all Georgian listeners, the Gurian melody "Dila Aris Tsa Lazhvardi" (Morning is an Azure Sky). A special milestone in the group's career is their participation in the musical mega-project "The Voice," where "Allegro" delivered dignified performances and achieved the status of semi-finalists. On September 18, 2015, the group successfully participated in the celebratory awards ceremony of the National Business Ratings Union, held in Georgia for the first time. In May 2016, "Allegro" was selected by the musical editors of four radio stations ("Fortuna," "Fortuna Plus," "Ar Daidardo," and "Autoradio") for the "Golden Wave" awards. Nominated in the "People's Choice" category, they secured a place in the Top 5 out of 160 competitors! Voices That Unite This is more than a tagline—it is the philosophy that drives every performance, every rehearsal, every artistic decision we make. Allegro exists to bridge divides: between classical and contemporary, between Georgian and international, between performer and audience. In an increasingly fragmented world, we believe in music's unique power to create shared experiences that transcend language, cultural background, and personal difference. Our harmonies represent unity in diversity-individual voices maintaining their distinct character whilst creating something greater through collaboration.

THE DUET “GEORGIA”

The duet “Georgia”, Winner of New Wave 2008, Rati Durglishvili and Maka Zambakhidze, stands as one of the brightest voices of Georgian music. Their repertoire—woven from Georgian and international compositions, including Rati Durglishvili's own works—has long captured the hearts of audiences. They made hits with own version, which love people.

Throughout their career, they have illuminated stages across Georgia and beyond, offering concerts celebrated for their elegance, emotional depth, and masterful musicianship. In 2023, marking their 15th anniversary, the duet presented a grand solo concert at the Tbilisi Concert Hall, accompanied by the Tbilisi Opera and Ballet Theatre Orchestra.

In 2025, they continued this tradition of excellence with a second major solo performance accompanied by the Symphony Orchestra conducted by David Mazanashvili, enriching their music with renewed orchestral brilliance.

With harmonies that are both powerful and timeless, Duet “Georgia” remains a radiant symbol of the nation's cultural spirit—artists whose voices continue to inspire, uplift, and unite audiences everywhere.

Their music—harmonious, soulful, and timeless—continues to resonate deeply with listeners.

Person-History

GEORGIY SICHINAVA

Georgiy Vladimirovich Sichinava is an outstanding Soviet and Georgian footballer, one of the brightest midfielders of the 1960s. He was born on 18 February 1942 (other version 15 September 1944) in Gagra (Abkhaz ASSR, Georgian SSR, USSR). He became a legend of Dinamo Tbilisi and the USSR national team, as well as one of the patriarchs of Abkhazian football, one of the legendary players of Georgian football history. In 2022 he celebrated his 80th birthday, and as of today (December 2025) he is 83 years old. Sichinava lives in (homeland) Gagra, Abkhazia and remains a highly respected figure in sporting circles.

- Career

Sichinava began his professional career in 1961 with Dinamo Tbilisi, where he quickly established himself as a key player on the right-midfield position. His pace, technique and ability to operate on the flank made him irreplaceable. By the age of 21 he had played 118 matches for the club in the Soviet Top League — a unique record that no one has ever surpassed.

Major achievements:

- Soviet Top League champion (1964) with Dinamo Tbilisi.
- Bronze medallist in the Soviet championship (1962).
- Included four times in the list of the 33 best players of the season in the USSR: No. 2 in 1964 (right midfielder), No. 3 in 1961, 1962 and 1966.
- Bronze medallist at the 1966 World Cup with the USSR national team (alongside stars such as Lev Yashin and Valentin Ivanov).
- Played 20 matches for the USSR national team (1964–1967) and scored 1 goal. One of the most memorable was the 1965 friendly against Brazil in Moscow, where the Soviet side lost 0–3 to Pelé and company, yet Sichinava left a vivid impression.

In total, he played around 200 matches in the Soviet Top League and scored 20 goals. He ended his playing career in 1972 with Metallurg Rustavi, after which he worked as a coach of children's and youth teams in Gagra, and from 1982 to 1991 served as director of a sports school.

-Interesting facts and personal life

Sichinava was not only talented but also a charismatic player with a fiery temperament. He was frequently suspended for rough play — seven times in total! In 1965, during a match against Neftchi Baku, he tripped Eduard Markarov, for which the referee sent him off, and the Minister of Internal Affairs of the Georgian SSR, Eduard Shevardnadze, ordered him to spend three weeks in a Tbilisi police regiment for “re-education”. Sichinava escaped after just a few days to return to the pitch; thanks to his reputation he was forgiven, though he received a suspended disqualification. Such stories only added to his colourful image — fans adored him for his passion.

In the national team he was affectionately nicknamed “Chorna” (dark, black) because of his dark skin and hair (he was part of the famous “Georgian corner” together with Mikheil Meskhi, Slava Metreveli and Murtaz Khurtsilava). Georgiy himself took it with humour and was never offended. After the 1966 World Cup bronze, the players were promised Volga cars, but they were confiscated at customs if anyone tried to bring them in from abroad.

Sichinava made an enormous contribution to the development of football in Abkhazia and Georgia, popularising the sport among young people. He is a Master of Sport of the USSR of international class (1966) and is still remembered as a symbol of the golden era of Georgian football.

CASTELLO MARE

The Pearl of Adjara on a Seaside
Cliff Where the Sky Meets the Sea and History Embraces Modernity

Imagine a place where you wake to the sound of ocean waves from a castle perched on a cliff. This is not a fairy tale - this is Castello Mare.

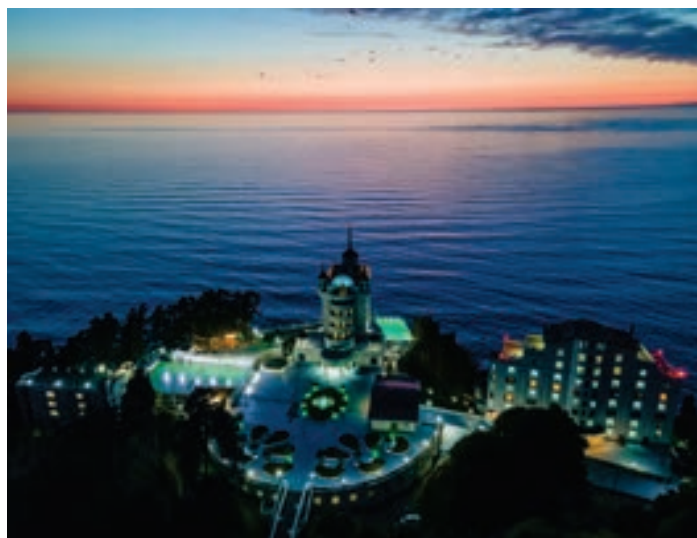

Just 17 kilometers from Batumi, on the dramatic cliffs of Tsikhisdziri, stands an architectural masterpiece that seems to rise from the sea itself. Its name - Castello Mare (Italian for "Sea Castle") - connects to the history of this place dating back to the previous century.

Castello Mare is not merely a hotel - it is a paradise where one reconnects with nature and rediscovers oneself. Here, special attention is given to ecology and environmental care, while flavors created from local products unite tradition with modernity.

The heartbeat of the hotel is its spa and medical wellness center - seawater pools, thermal zones, massages, and physiotherapy offer not just relaxation, but opportunities for genuine healing and energy restoration. Each guest is given the chance to rest, unwind, and receive real health benefits.

Beyond being an island of tranquility, Castello Mare is also a vibrant cultural space. The hotel hosts festivals, cultural evenings, and special celebrations that blend local traditions with contemporary spirit. Among these, the "Mandarinoba" Festival stands out - a celebration that captures Adjara's sunny character and aromatic colors. It revives local tradition and introduces it to guests in a way that is engaging, attractive, and culturally enriching. This orange-hued festival brightens the region in November while supporting local entrepreneurs in promoting and selling their products.

In the evenings, when the sun sets into the sea and the horizon glows in golden-pink shades, the view from Castello Mare's terrace is one that remains in the soul forever. Here, where sea and mountain air converge, a unique microclimate emerges - a natural wonder of climate therapy. The iodine-rich breeze from the sea merges with the pure, oxygen-rich mountain air, creating a rare healing environment. The infinity of the sea, the steadfastness of the cliffs, and the play of sky colors create a harmony that makes guests forget their daily routines. In these moments, you realize that true luxury is not precious stones or expensive objects - it is time and space where you can exist in complete harmony with yourself and nature.

CASTELLO MARE

Ultimately, everything depends on having an owner with the vision to create such beauty as we see today. Transforming it into paradise and maintaining its authenticity rests with the hotel's manager and team - and when nature-loving professionals come together, they create exactly the kind of beauty where you can simultaneously rest, embrace culture, rejuvenate your health, and find what we seek most in everyday life - tranquility, beauty, and inspiration.

Company "Askaneli"
was founded in 1998 by brothers Chkhaidze.

The name "Askaneli" is associated with the small, magical village of Askana, located in the beautiful region of Guria, where the old cellar, built by their ancestor – Antimoz Chkhaidze still stands. Antimoz and his whole family was in love with vine and the divine fluid obtained from the grapes. They made their wine according to the old Georgian method, indigenously in clay vessels - called Kevri. All members of the family were involved in this activity, especially the grandchildren who hosted guests with clay Jugs and little terracotta cups. Antimoz Chkhaidze's cellar and several pitchers dating back to 1880 are still preserved in the village of Askana. Tradition of this beautiful family was revived by brothers Chkhaidze. The founder of the company Gocha Chkhaidze has been working for years to revitalize Georgian viticulture, preserve and recover unique grape varieties.

ASKANELI

The company owns hundreds of hectares of vineyards, two winemaking facilities in Kakheti and Tbilisi and one fruit distillery in Guria. In addition of producing more than 60 denominations of wine, company produces aged brandy, chacha and brut.

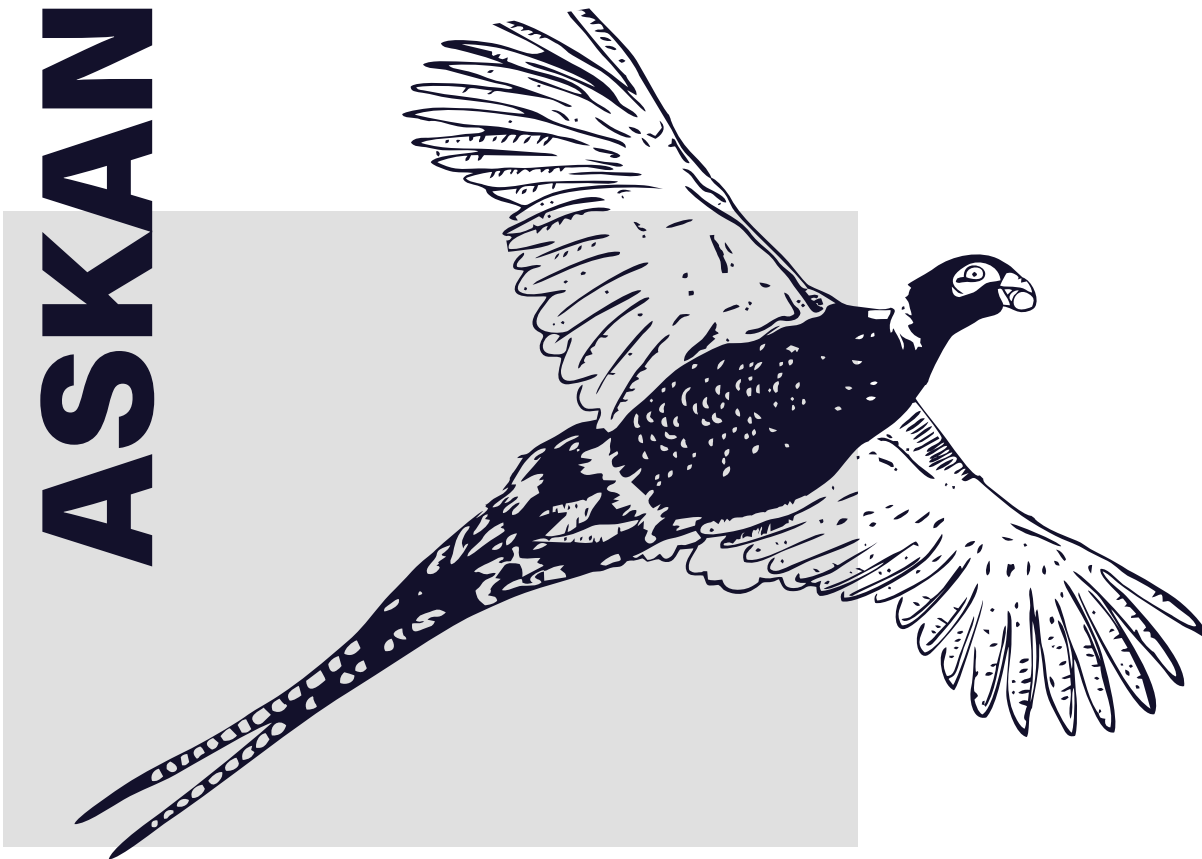

"Askaneli" is one of the largest organizations in Georgia, which is in the top three winemaking company ratings of wine production and vine farming.

As a multi-brand company, choosing a favorite is no easy task — yet Razmadze admits a personal fondness for the Dorica collection. “The collection is laser-cut, and whenever I wear Dorica earrings, people ask me about the gems. I always smile and tell them they’re pure gold, treated with a special laser technique that gives them their remarkable shine.”

Ramos MacShaurma

Tradition, Quality, and Growth - from a 14m² garage to a national brand

Founded by Ramaz Kharebava, Ramos MacShaurma began its journey in 2012 in a small rented garage in Tbilisi's Temka district. What started as a humble shawarma shop with a single employee has grown into one of Georgia's most recognized fast-food chains. Today, Ramos MacShaurma operates seven locations across the country and employs more than 350 people, continuing its steady growth and expansion year after year.

The company's success lies in its founder's persistence, intuition, and commitment to excellence. Every recipe, process, and design detail reflects his vision to create a Georgian brand built on uncompromising quality and genuine care for customers. Today, the brand is entering a renewed stage of development with its new visual identity and an upcoming expansion that includes four new branches opening both in Tbilisi and across the regions. Staying true to its promise, Ramos MacShaurma continues to deliver authentic, high-quality flavors while elevating Georgia's fast-food industry with reliable products and customer-oriented service.

RAMOS MACSHAURMA

In 2025, the company entered a new stage of development marked by renewal, innovation, and growth. A state-of-the-art production facility opened in Tsilkani, built according to European standards, where the brand now bakes its own premium bread and cultivates tomatoes and other key ingredients on-site. This integrated approach allows Ramos MacShaurma to ensure consistent quality and full control over its supply chain.

Driven by innovation, authenticity, and teamwork, Ramos MacShaurma is not just a success story; it's proof that dedication and vision can turn a small local eatery into a symbol of Georgian entrepreneurship and pride.

Grow and Empower

A new education formula that changes the future

A new education formula that changes the future
How IT Academy STEP is creating a digital education ecosystem in Georgia, where transformation begins with people

Development begins not with technology, but with people who see the power of change within themselves. In the 21st century, as professions evolve exponentially, Georgia faces the challenge of shaping its own vision of the digital future.

IT Academy STEP has taken a leading role in this process and has become the flagship of transformative education in Georgia today.

Global expertise, local impact

IT Academy STEP is part of an international educational network that has operated since 1999 in more than 20 countries with over 100 branches. STEP entered Georgia in 2015, opened the Tbilisi branch in 2016, and the Telavi branch in 2018. During the pandemic, an online branch was launched, making IT education accessible throughout the country.

As an authorized training center for Microsoft, Cisco, and Autodesk, STEP ensures the competitiveness of Georgian students in the global labor market. However, STEP's true meaning runs deeper, as confirmed by its mission: "Personal and career transformation for a better life" and "Preparing the country for the Fourth Industrial Revolution."

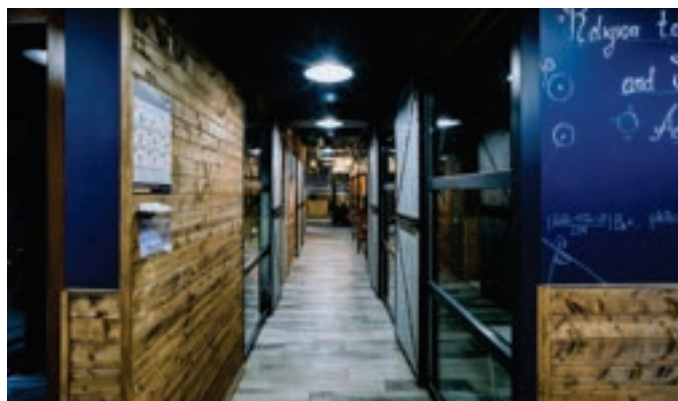

Grow and Empower — a circular economy of knowledge

STEP's philosophy is summarized in its brand motto, "Grow and Empower." This is not just a marketing slogan, but an ecosystem vision aimed at accelerating the country's digital transformation.

In this view, personal growth and social progress are interconnected: a student gains knowledge, develops professionally, then becomes a driver of change and passes that knowledge on to others. The academy's mentoring program is a clear example: students who achieve success and mastery begin helping their peers as mentors.

This circular economy of knowledge is a powerful instrument for national development—especially for the IT sector, where Georgia must address talent migration and a shortage of qualified professionals.

Educational programs for everyone

A unique feature of IT Academy STEP is the accessibility of IT education for all age groups:

Junior IT Academy (ages 9–13)

Children learn the basics of programming, robotics, and digital literacy through engaging activities.

For teenagers (ages 14–17)

Programs aligned with school schedules that support early career orientation in programming and graphic design.

For adults (18+) — three main tracks

- ✓ Graphic Design: Professional Adobe tools, visual identity, design systems.
- ✓ Programming: Web, mobile, and desktop application development; working with databases.
- ✓ Networks & Cybersecurity: Network infrastructure planning and security systems.

Online short programs for adults:

UI/UX Design; Interior Design; Adobe Certification Courses; IT Support; Front-End Web Development; Python Programming; MarTech (Marketing Technologies); AI in Education (for professionals working in the education sector).

Learning at STEP starts from zero, and the methodology is tailored to each age group. Small groups, practical projects, and an individual approach ensure effective mastery of the material.

IT Academy STEP places special emphasis on practice-based learning and modern technologies. Curricula are continually updated in line with AI and current tech trends, so students learn not only today's tools but also prepare for tomorrow's challenges.

Graduates can obtain international certifications from Microsoft, Cisco, Pearson Certiport, and Adobe. The academy's career development team helps students master interview techniques, build resumes, develop personal branding, and find employment.

Future challenges — Industry 5.0 and Society 5.0

The world is moving from the Fourth Industrial Revolution (Industry 4.0) into the era of the Fifth (Industry 5.0), which once again places people at the center—their unique vision, empathetic thinking, and ability to give technologies deeper meaning. Today's developer is no longer just a code writer, but a creator of digital processes and a systems architect.

In parallel, the concept of Society 5.0 has emerged: a society where technology serves people, not the other way around. In this paradigm, a profession is not merely a status or a source of income—it is a tool for making a real impact on society.

Our youth face unprecedented challenges. Their success requires systems thinking, digital intuition, creativity, ethical responsibility, and emotional intelligence. STEP prepares not merely “programmers,” but Developer 5.0, Cybersecurity Specialist 5.0, Designer 5.0—versatile professionals who understand the societal impact of technological decisions. In this era, students learn not only to write code but to collaborate with AI and cultivate irreplaceable human skills—creativity, innovation, empathy, and ethical judgment.

Toward the future

“Grow and Empower” is a call to the citizens of Georgia. The successful professional of tomorrow must be not a passive user of technology but an active creator, able to craft effective responses to global challenges. Industry 5.0 urges us: “Build what artificial intelligence cannot fundamentally create—work grounded in unique human values.”

IT Academy STEP is ready to help people achieve personal and career transformation for a better life. Today, as the world stands on the threshold of Industry 5.0, it is essential for Georgia to prepare for these challenges. Development is a journey beyond one's limits. When one person grows, the country—and the world—change for the better.

TOTAL CHARM

A WOMAN SHAPING THE FUTURE OF AESTHETIC MEDICINE

ALBINA KAJAIA

There are people who do not simply build businesses — they build new realities.

Albina Kajaia, MD, PhD, is one of those rare leaders who transform industries by uniting science, aesthetics, and human values. Her premium clinics, Total Charm Vake and Total Charm Dent, have become a symbol of a new era in Georgian aesthetic medicine — an era in which excellence is measured through meaning, integrity, and trust.

A Harmony of Technology and Philosophy

Founded in 2021, Total Charm Vake is a space where innovation gains soul and intention. Here, aesthetic medicine is elevated through scientific rigor and precision: advanced device-based technologies such as BTL Emface, Ultraformer, Endospheres Therapy, HydroFacial, and MORPHEUS, combined with leading injectable protocols Juvederm and Fillmed, and the refined mastery of APTOS thread-lifting methodologies.

This is a place to which patients return — not out of habit, but because they feel safe, understood, and genuinely cared for.

Building on the success of the aesthetic direction, Total Charm Dent opened in 2023 — a next-generation dental clinic offering a full diagnostic and surgical cycle, microscopic dentistry, orthodontics, and aesthetic reconstruction.

The clinic is led by Chief Surgeon and Maxillofacial Specialist Dr. Archi Labkhadze, whose expertise forms the heart and identity of the institution. The most sought-after services include implantology, orthodontics, and veneers, and the clinic is trusted by one of the most delicate patient categories — children.

A Culture Built Around the Human Being

Today, the Total Charm ecosystem unites 62 experts, guided by a shared philosophy in which safety, evidence-based medicine, and personalized care are not slogans but lived principles. Every patient is a story — an individual journey to be respected, honoured, and supported.

In 2025, the clinics received ISO international certification, confirming world-class standards of clinical processes, sterility, service quality, and structural discipline. For the team, it was not a challenge to overcome, but rather a natural continuation of a culture that already existed.

The brand's architecture continues to expand through the launch of the Valmont SPA direction, a sanctuary of sensory restoration and emotional renewal — where science meets serenity.

The Voice of Georgia on the Global Stage

Albina Kajaia represents Georgia at major international congresses, including IMCAS Paris, AMWC Monaco, AMWC Japan, Kolkhida, and other global scientific arenas. She positions Georgia as a rising destination in world aesthetics — a country with ambition, spirit, and an unmistakably strong professional culture.

A Brand Worthy of Its Title

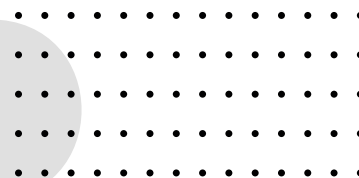

In 2025, Total Charm received the prestigious title Brand of the Year, awarded for innovative leadership, international growth, and the highest standard of patient trust. "This award means a great deal to me. It is proof that we are moving in the right direction — as a team and as a global brand," says Albina.

PHILOSOPHY

"Beauty is responsibility. It is a path to confidence, to quality of life, and to the freedom of being yourself. We believe in medicine that serves people and reveals their inner strength."

TOTAL CHARM VAKE

Not just clinics.
Not just a business.
A culture shaping the future.

NINO MUSERIDZE

GEORGIAN-GERMAN REPRODUCTION CENTER

Professor Nino Museridze began her professional journey with an in-depth study of the human being, choosing cytopathomorphology as her specialty and observing human life at the cellular level through a microscope. She considers one of her most significant achievements the creation of her first embryo with her own hands, an accomplishment that laid the foundation for her future successes and victories. Today, Professor Nino Museridze is the owner of one of the most successful clinics in the Caucasus — the Georgian-German Reproductive Center (GGRC), which has already opened a branch in neighboring Armenia. She also founded her own charitable foundation, through which nearly 2,000 new lives have been brought into the world over the past six years.

GGRC is the only reproductive center in Georgia to simultaneously hold three major recognitions: ISO certification, Israeli, and American quality certificates. The clinic successfully provides services to both Georgian and international patients. All innovations implemented in Europe are immediately adopted in the clinic, and under Nino Museridze's leadership, stem cell transplantation was introduced in Georgia for the first time in the field of in vitro fertilization. GGRC also introduced the country's first embryoscope (time-lapse systems) and today operates its embryology laboratory using AI-based ERICA technology.

The Georgian-German Reproductive Center regularly organizes trainings, workshops, exchange programs, and international conferences for scientific and professional development. It also hosts the residency program of the Tbilisi Medical Academy.

Professor Museridze founded the Oncofertility Association, which focuses on preserving and improving reproductive function in oncology patients through both clinical and scientific research. Under the clinic's and association's auspices, the scientific journal Medical Times is published, alongside four manuals and one scientific novel.

Nino Museridze says that her profession is her calling. She finds daily motivation in helping people, which drives her to never stop and to continually pursue new challenges.

NINO MUSERIDZE

When asked what is most important in life, Nino Museridze's answer clearly reflects her way of living: diligence, order, discipline, love for people, walking this path with the right companions, and moving forward.

"I never look back. I love to look ahead and far. I spend my whole life learning, sometimes from my own mistakes, but it is precisely through this that we grow and develop," says Nino Museridze.

SCHOOL "EURO-2000"

LEARNING WITH JOY, A PATH TO EUROPE

"Every morning, when I approach our school and hear the children's clamor coming from the windows, I know exactly that this is the energy for which Euro-2000 exists. Learning here begins with joy, and knowledge turns into experience. Our school is a place where children grow up

Euro-2000 was founded in 1999–2000 by professors Roland Komakhidze and Anzor Abuseridze – people who, in a small, cold, and dark city, took the hands of about forty children and began their journey towards a goal with great faith and firm steps. Since then, Euro-2000 maintains its tradition: respect for knowledge, innovative approaches, and European values.

Today, more than 1,300 students study at the school. They are cared for by 136 experienced and creative teachers – people who daily create an atmosphere where learning is no longer a duty, but an opportunity. We are proud to be a bilingual school where students from diverse nationalities and cultures come together in a unified space.

Our environment tells everything about us – a modern library, science and technology laboratories, subject classrooms, assembly halls, and a sports field. Everything is tailored to the students' interests and development. I want the children to feel safety, freedom, and inspiration when they enter the school – this is my main goal as a director.

Euro-2000 has always been and is an international school. Our partner schools in Germany, Denmark, and Sweden annually host our students through exchange programs. They have the opportunity to experience European education firsthand, through both German-language and English-language programs.

Since 2009, we have been a member of the German Federal Foreign Office initiative – "Schools: Partners for the Future" (PASCH). This status has given us the chance to closely cooperate with the Central Agency for German Schools Abroad (ZfA). We have friendly relations with the Bismarck School in Elmshorn, the Waldorf School in Sankt Augustin, and the Deutz Gymnasium in Cologne.

Approximately eighty students participate in these exchange programs annually – they live in German families, study in local schools, and then host foreign peers in their own homes. This experience is not only knowledge for them, but also friendship, mutual understanding, and cultural exchange – truly a European education.

We cooperate with the Goethe-Institut, PAD, and DAAD, which gives our students a real opportunity to continue their studies in German schools and universities. Since 2011, we have the right to conduct the DSD2 exams (B2/C1 level) recognized by the Conference of Education Ministers of Germany. This exam opens the way for many of our students to higher education institutions in Germany.

We are also participants in the international project "Olympiad in Berlin," which involves students at the basic level. This year, for the first time, they also traveled to summer schools in Berlin and Barcelona and shared their impressions with their peers.

Our students have successfully participated in national and international Olympiads, as well as in scientific and cultural competitions. I recall with particular pride the day when our team took first place in the NASA project – it was a great victory for everyone.

Many of our students study in schools in the US and the UK through the FLEX and HMC programs and return with a new perspective.

As the director, I am proud of the team that leads today's school – the teachers who manage to make children love learning every day.

The school has been repeatedly recognized by the National Business Ratings Union as a leader in the industry.

KEENWELL

KEENWEL GEORGIA
has been distributing aesthetic medicine products in Georgia for ten years.

We are the exclusive distributor of some of the world's leading brands, including French, Italian, and Korean products such as Hugel, Sinclair Pharmaceuticals, Nitia, L'esthetic, Medytox, Jetema, and many others.

Over the years, Kinvel Georgia has established high standards not only through the supply of reliable and high-quality products but also by enhancing the qualifications of local doctors.

As is well known, the field of aesthetic medicine is constantly evolving and facing new challenges worldwide. The demand for aesthetic procedures continues to grow every day, and new products and standards require doctors to expand their knowledge — a process that Kinvel Georgia actively supports.

The company regularly organizes visits to international congresses, attended by local doctors.

Since the number of available seats at such events is often limited, Kinvel Georgia annually invites internationally renowned plastic surgeons and speakers to Georgia, making the latest global approaches and standards more accessible to everyone — something essential both for doctors and for their patients.

This year as well, Kinvel Georgia, together with its subsidiary company Aurora Medical, organized a three-day Aurora Congress in Georgia, held in accordance with international standards.

The event hosted ten leading plastic surgeons from around the world. Along with the theoretical part, around 500 doctors had the opportunity to gain unique hands-on experience and improve their techniques in the modern use of fillers, botulinum therapy, threads, exosomes, polycaprolactone, and polylactic acid.

The congress also included discussions on rhinoplasty, mammoplasty, and abdominoplasty.

KEENWELL GEORGIA

The company takes pride in its achievements, its ability to keep pace with continuous development, and its commitment to high responsibility — reflected in the safety and quality of more than 50 products represented in its portfolio.

We aspire to be a trusted partner known for reliability and the highest standards for every doctor and patient, because we believe that only such an approach determines the pace of growth and the position we hold in the local market.

The journey we began together with our very first team member ten years ago continues to this day.

We express our deep gratitude for your ten years of loyalty and extend our sincere thanks to the Swiss Business Rating Association for this recognition.

Kinvel Georgia will continue to be your faithful and reliable partner in the world of aesthetic medicine.

For the past 10 years, my company has been actively operating in the transportation and logistics sector both within Georgia and internationally, including Europe, Central Asia, CIS countries, the Persian Gulf states, and China. The company's activities include specialised cargo transportation in containers, curtain-side trailers, and refrigerated units.

During this period, we have secured long-term transportation contracts. Among the company's partners are such companies as Bene Group, Borjomi, Natakhtari, and Poladis Sakhli.

Among the company's achievements, I am also proud to mention receiving the "Leader of the Year 2023", "Leader of the Year 2024" also "TRUSTED Leader 2020-2024" award, nominated by the National Business Rating Union of Georgia and the Swiss Rating Association.

ROSINX is a member of GIRCA – the Georgian International Road Carriers Association. An important factor in all these achievements is, of course, the highly qualified staff of the company, which includes graduates with IRU diplomas – the International Road Transport Union.

We all know that Georgia's significance as a transit country is growing, and it is becoming an important player on the global stage, with the potential to become a major transportation and logistics hub.

It is an honor for me and my company to represent Georgia and contribute, even in a small way, to the development of the country's transit and transportation sector.

Looking ahead, our company is entering a new stage of development. The next decade will be dedicated to growth driven by a relentless commitment to innovation, ensuring we continue to meet the evolving standards of tomorrow's transport industry. Our long-term vision is to strengthen our position in existing markets while opening new corridors and evolving into a fully integrated logistics provider recognised internationally.

At the heart of our progress stand the values that define who we are. Professionalism remains the foundation of our work, reflected in every decision and every service we deliver. We place genuine care for our clients at the center of our mission, ensuring reliability, transparency, and tailored solutions for every partner we serve. GEORGIAN-AMERICAN SCHOOL

Georgian-American University and Georgian-American School stand out in Georgia's educational landscape for their innovative vision and international programs. At the heart of this story is the founder and director, Mamuka Meskhi-shvili — a scientist and an educator who transformed his lifelong dedication to education into a successful system.

From an early age, Mamuka Meskhi-shvili demonstrated exceptional academic achievements and determination:

- ✓ In 1983, he graduated with a gold medal from Ilia Vekua Physics and Mathematics School No. 42.
- ✓ In 1988, he graduated with honors (Red Diploma) from the Faculty of Mechanics and Mathematics at Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University.
- ✓ In 2004, he earned a Doctorate in Physics and Mathematics.
- ✓ He has published 28 scientific papers in the world's leading academic journals.

These achievements shaped his vision and mission as a school director — to establish high standards, make science-based decisions, and, most importantly, create a student-centered learning environment.

In 2003, together with his wife, Irma Meskhi-shvili, he founded the Georgian-American High School, which quickly gained the trust of both parents and education professionals. A decade later, in 2013, they established the Georgian-American School, directed by Irma Meskhi-shvili.

Today, the schools operate four campuses, serving over 2 500 students, providing high-quality, internationally benchmarked education.

Both schools hold dual international accreditation:

- ✓ American — Cognia, and
- ✓ British — Cambridge Assessment International Education.

From Grades I–VIII, instruction follows the Cambridge Pathway program, while from Grade IX, the American program is added, which includes College Board standardized exams such as PSAT 8/9, PSAT 10, PSAT/NMSQT, and SAT.

Both schools also feature English-language sectors, where the curriculum is taught entirely in English. Students pursue the Advanced Placement (AP) program and take AP exams, preparing them for leading universities worldwide.

COMPANY: NAZILBE

Date of Establishment: 05/05/2014

The supermarket chain Nazilbe offers customers a diverse assortment of both products and services, featuring up to 30,000 local and imported items. In addition, Nazilbe operates its own production lines — healthy ready-to-eat meals, confectionery products, and a wide selection of organic goods, all of which enjoy exceptional popularity.

Nazilbe was founded in 2014, at a time when the Georgian market lacked low-budget, universally accessible supermarket formats. In response to this challenge, Nazilbe introduced high quality at affordable prices, transforming the prevailing perception that high quality necessarily required a high price. With this approach, we established an entirely new standard within the Georgian retail sector.

Today, the Nazilbe network operates around 30 branches actively functioning in Adjara, Guria, and Tbilisi. Over the past 11 years, the company has recorded an average annual growth rate of 10%, driven by the trust and loyalty of our customers.

Nazilbe collaborates with more than 70 partner companies across Europe and Asia that meet international standards. These partnerships enable us to consistently offer customers high-quality and diverse products.

Of particular note is our 150,000 sq.m agricultural land, of which 20,000 sq.m is home to a modern greenhouse complex that successfully produces 100% organic and healthy crops. Additionally, a major project is underway — the cultivation of European greenhouse grape varieties, which will further strengthen the company's agricultural segment.

Currently, Nazilbe is implementing two large-scale, eco-integrated projects in the region:
Construction of an innovative trade city on a 42,000 sq.m plot purchased at auction in Benze settlement;
Construction of a four-story shopping mall in Kobuleti, built to international standards.

Both projects are in an active development phase and aim to elevate the region's retail infrastructure with a new level of quality. At present, the company employs more than 900 people, and upon completion of the projects, this number will increase to around 2,000.

Our core mission is to provide customers with a wide assortment, high-quality products, and competitive prices — ensuring the fullest satisfaction of everyday needs. At the same time, the company has remained committed to the principles that have brought Nazilbe to where it is today and earned the loyalty of tens of thousands of customers.

At Nazilbe, every customer visit is both our responsibility and our motivation.

Over the years, CLC has built a strong brand associated with reliability, professionalism, and uncompromising quality standards. Thanks to this consistent approach, the company has been recognized as the “Leader of the Year” by the Swiss Rating Association and the Business Ratings Association for four consecutive years (2022–2025).

Despite a growing workload, CLC continues to maintain its leading market position, driven by continuous improvement and a constant pursuit of excellence.

CLC ELEVATOR

CLC's portfolio includes both leading private sector companies and governmental organizations. The company actively cooperates with the municipalities of Tbilisi, Rustavi, and Batumi, as well as with the Ministries of Education, Science and Youth, and Infrastructure.

In the private sector, CLC's partners include major companies such as Saba Construction, Anagi, Araki, Alpha House, Alma, and other key market players.

CLC offers a wide range of products and services, including the supply, installation, technical maintenance, repair, and warranty service of passenger, freight, hospital, and hydraulic elevators adapted for people with disabilities.

The company is also the exclusive representative in Georgia of the globally renowned elevator brand FUJISJ.

It is worth noting that CLC is the first and only company in its industry to launch large-scale marketing campaigns across both traditional and digital channels.

This year, for the first time in Georgia, billboard advertisements about elevators appeared simultaneously in Tbilisi, Batumi, and Kutaisi — a first-of-its-kind campaign in the field. This initiative was not merely about increasing brand awareness; it also clearly demonstrated that the elevator industry in Georgia is rapidly growing, and that despite already being a market leader, CLC remains ambitious — to innovate, evolve, and raise industry standards even higher.

Since 2018, CLC has earned a reputation as one of the fastest-growing companies in the industry. During this period, the company has completed thousands of successful projects, established partnerships with leading international brands, and built a reputation for quality and reliability that has made it a symbol of innovation and development in Georgia's elevator sector.
